ABOUT ME

An ambitious design student with a deep passion for my field. I stay informed about the latest trends and developments in the Games field, which helps me grow as a creative professional. Alongside my studies, I've been freelancing part-time, allowing me to turn my ideas into reality while gaining practical experience. I pride myself on being creative and unique in my approach, always looking for ways to push boundaries and explore new concepts. I'm excited about the future and eager to continue developing my skills in design.
